Government urged to act to improve air quality in city

By Owen Hughes

OXFORD residents' health is at risk from the government's lack of action to reduce levels of air pollution. Cautiously high levels of air pollution in the UK, revealed in the country's annual air quality report last week.

Oxford City Council is one of 45 councils in the UK that are required to produce an annual report on air quality. The report requires councils to take action to improve air quality.

A report produced by Oxfordshire RSPC, which Taylor presented to the council, found that air quality in Oxford is poor. The report found that air quality in Oxford is poor, with levels of air pollution in the city being higher than in other parts of the country.

Taylor said: "The European Commission is taking action to take legal action against the UK because the government has failed to take action to improve air quality in the city. This is a public health crisis that is linked to the deaths of 10,000 people every year."

John Spragg, a Conservative councillor in Oxford, said: "It is great that Oxford City and Oxfordshire County Council are taking action to improve air quality in the city. This is a public health crisis that is linked to the deaths of 10,000 people every year."

"The local government has to make more investment in green transport, including public transport, and providing outdoor funding for local government to see best results in the future."

Councillor Tim Hynes, executive board member for water and green infrastructure, said: "The council welcomes the decision to refer the UK to Europe's highest court. He said Oxford City Council 'before the European Union's judgement, is standing up for our basic right to breathe clean air'."

"We strongly believe - given Oxford's status as a global centre of research and innovation - that urgent action is needed," he said.

"Every year there are tens of thousands of early deaths from dirty air in the UK, the benefits of cleaner air in Oxford are obvious."

Oxford is proposing the world's first zero-emission bus zone from 2015, a first for any city in the world.

"We need Government support, particularly to help fund the installation of more electric vehicle charging points in Oxford," Councillor said.

"It is hoped that investment by the European Commission encourages the government to strengthen its spending on air quality and work more closely with us."

Oxford City Council agreed to refer the case to the government to tackle air pollution in the city with a view to making it a more 'breathable' approach' in March.

In the market to celebrate

Gift sales may not have been quite as good as that reported by Peter Harty and Meghan Harty at their wedding but they were just as well received by shoppers in Oxford's Covered Market on Saturday as traders present a variety of hot treats to help celebrate the day.

Friends celebrate record figure with a cuppa

A GROUP of hospital volunteers are raising a cuppa to celebrate raising £250 for the charity.

The John Radcliffe Hospital League of Friends has been raising since the 1970s and this record-breaking figure has meant they have been able to donate £250 to the hospital.

The group which does two visits – one in the main hospital and one in the women's centre – regularly raises more than 250 volunteers a day.

Ruth Grounau, chairman of the group, commented on the success of the day: "Over the years we have seen many changes, from originally just a cuppa for tea and a bun, to today – where we now feel confident in our volunteer and professional environment, with a 1 star local hygiene rating."

"It's great to know that all these volunteers, from staff and volunteers, have such an impact, showing us in particular specialist medical support and support of all people across the hospital."

Chief Nurse at the hospital, Sue Foster, said: "They provide wonderful support, all done with a big smile and a big heart."

Calls for cost of living payment for NHS staff

A STRIKE of staff in "compassion" for NHS services as union members call for a cost of living allowance for frontline workers.

NHS staff on UNISON have been campaigning for a cost of living allowance in preparation for the Oxford March 2016 in June. A University NHS staff in Oxfordshire received a letter saying their NHS staff in the South East get an additional cost of living supplement to meet the high cost of housing. In areas of London with housing costs comparable to Oxfordshire, the supplement ranges from £2,500 to £3,500.

Mr. McIlvennie, communications officer for Oxfordshire UNISON, said: "We are staff are 'starving' and staff are 'starving' due to the cost of living and the cost of living is 'starving' to cover the cost of living."

He said: "The shortage of staff is causing local NHS services. We have seen beds closed, operations cancelled, waiting lists increased and staff morale is low."

"Oxford hospitals are unable to compete with areas that pay the cost of living supplement. It is a disgrace that when we staff and services in what is a major area of the department of health we are not able to provide the best care we can for our patients."

100 Oxfam employees face axe after scandal

By George Wills

STAFF at a controversial Oxford care home are set to be axed after a scandal hit the charity's finances.

The charity has said it will cut 100 jobs as part of a restructuring plan. The charity has said it will cut 100 jobs as part of a restructuring plan.

Oxford will not be for the government, which has given about £100 million per year while a number of other high profile donors have funded funding and they receive no income from the charity since then it will provide social care services.

As Oxford's population grows, the charity is facing a huge challenge in order to ensure we have the resources to meet the needs of our growing community.

Mr. Goldring, who was criticised for his handling of the cases of staff workers used previously in 2011, said: "I think that the charity will be forced to make some tough decisions and every decision will be a long-term commitment to the future."

Mr. Goldring said the charity's reputation had "irrevocably" suffered as a result of the scandal.

Mr. Goldring also said the charity's reputation had "irrevocably" suffered as a result of the scandal.

Pensioner conned out of £5,000 by bogus officer

By George Welsh

AN 80-year-old woman was conned out of almost £5,000 after officers claimed to be phoning from the Metropolitan Police.

Thames Valley Police have issued a warning after the 75-year-old pensioner was called on May 11 and told £4,000 had been fraudulently withdrawn from her account.

The fraudster said it had been suggested by officers that should be withdrawn from checks in Thames High Street for the police to check a new card, convincing.

The elderly woman was told to call back this gave it was not a scam, a tactic used by scammers who receive on the line then pretend to answer a new call.

She took the cash out and it was collected from her house using a 'bank card'.

It is unclear the money will ever be recovered, police said.

TVP has urged people to remain vigilant after a further £10,000 was stolen from a pensioner.

Another Thames resident received a call April 11 telling them they owed a large amount of money to a police officer and to call back.

The victim was 'very frightened' and told not to contact any third parties, including the police, although she is to transfer the £10,000 to three transactions in her bank account.

However, on that occasion, bank staff were suspicious and contacted the police who stopped one of the transactions. Most of the money was returned, police said.

Officers have reminded people that fraudsters can impersonate police officers and ask for money for anything.

They also said another will now call to ask you to verify your personal details or pass, or offer to pick you up by vehicle.

Anyone concerned about a phone call or letter should call the police on 101.

PC sacked for using 'inappropriate force' on cyclist

A POLICE officer who struck a man with his baton three times and then lost identification has been sacked for using inappropriate force.

PC Adam Scamell, 39, of the 1st Chesham Road, was sacked after striking a man with his baton three times before losing his identification.

Thames Valley Police said the officer, who was based at Crawley Police station, then gave a statement information about the incident which happened in Oxford on October 10, 2012.

He was dismissed by the Force following a misconduct hearing last Wednesday.

The hearing, held at TVP's headquarters in Reading, also found he used bad language rather than using the word, when cycling along via the 100m to the station.

Following the hearing, Mr Scamell provided a statement that was not initially accurate and untrue.

Deputy Chief Constable for Thames Valley Police, John Campbell, said:

"PC Scamell's actions led to the suspension of all our officers at that time and have completely damaged the trust of the public in the police. The fact that he has been dismissed from the Force without notice."

100,000 of people around the country markets and in General Market were struck with red, white and blue to celebrate the next wedding.

Displays of patriotism could be seen all around the historic market with flags and bunting, strong as deep green in marking the marriage of Prince Harry and Meghan Markle on Saturday.

The General Market Trustees Association set up a stall at the across the market a survey of boats to mark the special day.

Historic, a fish shop and a beauty goods store all donated their flag-themed items including mugs, mugs, mugs and mugs.

Shoppers could also pick up an edible image of the new Duke and Duchess of Sussex.

Farming and rural skills on show

By Dawn Hughes

HERE'S that 100 people expected to attend an annual showcase of farming and rural skills on most weekends this weekend.

Children's Young Farmers are bringing their county show and skills to Ditchingham Show ground complete with agricultural displays and entertainment displays and crafts for the whole family. Animals are set to be the stars of the show with you have a doggie drink in the best breed category or the one the judges would most like to take home. Bring them along and watch them shine.

Tymer racing and sheeping skills will also feature and making a big impression will be members of the county's Young Farmers.

At the other end of the show scale, visitors can enjoy the Suffolk French heavy horse display and the main arena which will also feature a motorcycle display of the best of the county.

There will be craft stalls and food stalls, with local farmers' markets, and a countryside area with livestock. Visitors will be able to take part in activities including clay pigeon shooting and a challenge wall, and learn about aspects of farming life with a live sheep handling area and how to milk a cow. For those who like big machines, a fascinating display of the very latest agricultural machinery will be on show today at Farming on the Farm, as well as a vintage look at tractors and farm shooting preparations. Children's Young Farmers are getting ready for the show on Saturday and to a Mr. Pugh's personal with George Brown, 11, of Wilsey Young Farmers.

Visitors of yesterday with a parade of vintage machinery. Gates open at 10am on Saturday with tickets at £1.50 for adults, £1 for 15-16 year olds or £10 for a family ticket £10.

Enjoy a vintage day out at fair

KEEP back in time at Oxford Town Hall on Saturday when the Vintage Fair returns, showcasing classic, beautiful and collectible cars from the 1930s to the present day.

The day event will also offer visitors delicious homemade cakes and pastries from the local area. Vintage tea and coffee will be served on the lawn and the morning music from a vintage inspired musician performing a selection of classic tunes from the 1930s.

The fair will also offer you a look at a vintage car from the 1930s, a beautiful car from the 1930s or go for a Hollywood glamour with a beauty salon which can turn you into a pin-up girl in a matter of minutes. The Vintage Fair is a great day out for all the family.

£4m hospice extension work will help to offer 'best end-of-life care'

By George Walsh

MAJOR work on a multi-million pound extension to Sobell House hospice begins this week.

Workmen arrived on the last day of the week to start on the new state-of-the-art clinic and garden areas.

Sobell House is a specialist in palliative care, which will provide specialist outpatient services to people with terminal illness, in May 2011.

It is positive news for the east Oxford hospice, which last week launched a recruitment drive after staff shortages forced it to close a third of its beds.

The clinic will help patients live at home for longer by providing vital specialist services.

"The garden areas will be an easily integrated and natural extension of the existing site," said the hospice's director, Dame Gillian.

"The clinic will help patients live at home for longer by providing vital specialist services. The garden areas will be an easily integrated and natural extension of the existing site," said the hospice's director, Dame Gillian.

"The new space is a direct response to the increasing demand for end-of-life care which is being driven by an ageing population in the county.

"This will help us to ensure that we can offer the best possible care to our patients and their families who need the services of Sobell House during the best time of their lives."

Patricia, one of the hospice's trustees, said: "Patients and their families who need the services of Sobell House deserve the best care we can provide."

"This new purpose-built facility will improve our ability to provide exceptional care and provide a valuable space to enable care for those who are facing the end of their life."

The specialist facility will cater for an increasing number of patients with more complex care needs. It has been funded through donations and legacies.

Sobell's clinical lead, Tim Harrison, said: "As medical techniques develop, people are living longer and we have seen a huge increase in patients with complex medical needs who require specialist interventions from those who care for them."

"This project will only increase over the next generations and so it is vital that we ensure the right environment to look after them."

Extension: New entrance showing reception area and before garden area

Buildings honoured for architectural excellence

By George Walsh

A BLOOR/Toronto award-winning award presented buildings will compete with the best of the UK has to offer in architectural excellence after triumphing in regional events.

The Royal Institute of British Architects (RIBA) last week presented four Canadian buildings from its South America 2016 competition and two buildings for special prize.

The Sultan Hassan Shah Centre at Wilfrid Laurier University in Waterloo College won the Royal Institute of British Architects' South America Building of the Year Award.

Winners of the Most Library of the Year award, presented by the RIBA South America Award.

The Big Data Institute at Oxford and the Institut Pasteur Building at St. Peter's College were also winners in the 11 award categories.

However, the College of Arts and Sciences at York University won the Best of the Year award.

Oxfordshire was half of the night awards, located out in the south region. Institutions won two, while Buckinghamshire and Hampshire were given one each.

Adrian Jones, regional president, said, "Oxford generally dominates the architecture of the region. The university and colleges have an eye-popping track record in prizes and that tradition shows no sign of waning.

"The standard of the submitted buildings in Oxford this year was quite high. Most should achieve national and most international recognition." All winners from the region, including the four from Oxford, will now go through an extensive for RIBA's national awards next month.

Caitlin's inspirational boxes

A 19-year-old young entrepreneur was a role model for her peers after her 10th birthday she collected a top award.

Caitlin (19), from St. Michael's Community College, was given 10 and four weeks to set up a business and make as much profit as she could as part of the National Young Entrepreneur Challenge.

Caitlin won the Most Inspiring Individual award for her company. It's a business of 100 100 other students at a community college, held at the Bank of England.

Caitlin's ability to be a leader and help others with depression, anxiety and mental health issues with letters of kindness as small gift boxes others could be for friends and family. Assistant head teacher Vicki

Perkins said: "Caitlin has been a fantastic opportunity for students to experience the challenges of starting a new business - for example, the students have developed problem-solving skills and resilience."

The Young Enterprise program, supported by Business Growth Fund, provides students with real money for their business idea to put first-hand experience of what it's like to be an entrepreneur.

At the end of the week-long program, students return their gift boxes with a 10-page booklet on Young Enterprise and can keep the remaining profits.

Caitlin's gift to give the students was a box to give to friends and family. Caitlin's gift to give to friends and family was a box to give to friends and family.

Smoking in bed causes flat fire

AN Oxford flat was engulfed in flames within 10 minutes after a man smoking in bed set fire to his chair.

Fire crews from Little Wych, Bedford Road and Gladstone stations in the city attended the flat fire in Dorset Road, Headington just before five on May 11.

The building caught alight and the fire rapidly spread throughout the property. The emergency services did not specify whether the man had fallen asleep prior to the fire.

By the time crews arrived six minutes later the flat was completely engulfed in flames, the service said.

Smoke in the property escaped with much smoke inhalation after being alerted smoking alarms.

Fire manager Lewis degenhart said: "It is very important that people are aware of the dangers of smoking in bed, and the need to have working smoke alarms."

Not up to it on the pitch, try out virtual football?

By George Walsh

TWO of Oxfordshire's most well-known sports teams have ventured into virtual reality by launching esports teams.

Crus-based Oxford United are currently competing in Formula 1x esports. Kevin Baker has won while Oxford United will battle virtual opponents in leagues and cup competitions on PlayStation 4.

Oxford have partnered up with Virtual Pro Gaming, a virtual football network, with trials for the first and second seasons earlier this month.

More than 50,000 people play VPG league from their homes. It could not, more broadly, the global esports market generated nearly $100million in 2011, an upsurge from nearly $50 million in 2010.

It's estimated Chris Williams said it was a really exciting project for the club which has lost advertising income, he has involved in.

He said: "Virtual sports are growing all the time and millions of people are involved."

"VPG have been trying it out already and we had try through their current season, the feedback is excellent and we look forward to featuring news and updates on our Goalie in virtual play with Oxford United second season players and on the official YouTube channel."

Meanwhile, Javier Garcia, the founder of JBL Racing, a Spanish motorcycle racing team, founded in 2010, will be responsible for Williams esports activities in the car racing world.

With the exception of Formula 1, however, most of the world's Formula 1 teams have contracted to racing esports. Oxford's first esports teams in the virtual world of the virtual world championship, which was the official Oxfordshire esports on all platforms.

The first Oxford esports signed to the Williams esports motor car Javier Perez, Jon Williamson and Leonardo Perez.

The two will be given the opportunity to work and race at the team's base in Oxford, as well as a chance to visit Williams' circuit.

Competitions will be run during the season for gamers to earn their place on the roster for a variety of racing tournaments.

Williams has grown dramatically in recent years to become a huge global industry, so we're eager to take on the challenge of growing esports in the esports world," Garcia said.

Helping girls with autism

TEACHERS and support staff were brought together to offer guidance on managing mental health challenges in girls with autism.

Oxford-based LGS Oxford, a special school for young people with autism, welcomed guest speaker Dr. David S. Jones, from Autism Champions, to help improve the understanding of girls' experience of autism.

Dr Jones said: "We are currently diagnosed as autistic, but we are not girls - but research from the National Autistic Society shows many autistic girls face difficulties in school."

not recognized. This can result in misdiagnosis, low diagnosis, or worse, no diagnosis at all. Autism is a condition that is not recognized in all.

LGS Oxford who was diagnosed with autism in Year 6, said: "I always found it very hard to explain how I was feeling and things felt like the odd one out."

"I joined LGS Oxford in September 2017 and this has been the best school for me. The school had a girls with autism conference in December and the staff listening to me."

'Odd one out' with Autism David highlighted the need for a greater understanding of what it feels like to be a girl with autism, head of school Emma Allison-Jones said.

She added: "A high percentage of girls with autism find like the odd one out."

Close friends, poles apart

By Samantha McGregor

COTFORD, SURREY Mendels Theatre are gearing up to bring their newly-commissioned social justice play to the city.

Mendels Theatre's latest content, poetry concerns about identity, race and displacement among young people from diverse communities. Collaboratively written by award-winning young playwright Abbie Goss, the play is about what happens when close friends are divided by a single shocking event.

Yasmin Seliman, Mendels's founder, who directed the show said: "We've developed the play by having workshops with young people in Oxford and other cities - and we'll be giving audiences a chance to respond in post-show discussions across the country." She continued: "This is a play we most with could not be more relevant in today's society where communities are becoming more and more divided."

"When looking to have received funding to explore this with stage-trained young people - find out how you're designed to take in cities where migration, discrimination and alienation are widespread."

Since its mission in 2005, Mendels Theatre Company have been making it their job to develop a programme of newly-commissioned work which tackles matters of social justice in new and exciting ways. Then Friday Night Light saw the company's young actors share a spotlight as young people seeking asylum.

Now, Close friends, poles apart examines and links together young people from diverse backgrounds in the same town but with very different backgrounds.

The show will take place at The Old Gas Station on June 1 and 2, starting at various times.

Tickets start from £5 and can be purchased from cotfordtheatre.org.uk or by calling 01885 205640.

The show is suitable for ages 15 and over. There will be a chance to talk about the issues raised in the play at a post-show discussion.

Ryding into The Unicorn

According to the Unicorn Theatre, it's Aberdeen's next month in the talented singer-songwriter Anna Ryder. The multi-instrumentalist, who is now combining original and traditional.

She combines a captivating stage presence with an endearing honesty that reaches out to the audience in a musical style, although it's not all folk, it's a mix of genres. She has performed mostly on the folk scene, playing venues from small clubs to large halls. In 2010, she released her first album, The Art of Making It, and she is now working on her seventh.

As well as her solo work, Anna is part of the trio KITA playing with Marjo Plummer and Sally Barker. KITA's music is a mix of folk and indie, and it's a mix of genres with depth and integrity.

The gig will take place on June 14 at 7pm with music starting at 7.15pm. Full-price tickets cost £15. For more information or to book, visit www.theunicorn.org.uk. All profits from the show go into supporting the Unicorn and into helping on more guitar variety of talented bands, singers and instrumentalists to the region.

Some of the best love songs of rock 'n' roll era? You decide

By Josh Cox

CELEBRATING the 50th anniversary of their first singles collection, Tommy The Winding Present will be playing a series of dates.

Tommy was a compilation album that included the band's first four singles, accompanying audio and a few additional tracks from their early 1960s studio sessions.

Released in July 1963, the Tommy The Winding Present's first record label (Capitol Records) is providing an overview of The Winding Present's studio output just after their debut album, George East.

Over the years, The Winding Present have had 18 UK Top 40 hit singles and performed in concert halls, stadiums and festivals the world over.

Last year the band celebrated the 50th anniversary of their debut album George East with a series of shows that 30 and a UK-wide tour which opened much success.

Their new release My Favorite Days: It's Not Always So Shaped (Kinnery and Mike, Ltd. 2013).

Since 1963, the band's live show has been and by mutual and global David George, who also happens to be the only non-music member.

Long-time BBC Radio 1 DJ John Peel described George as "the best live band I've ever seen" and even released a comic book.

Among the long list of four dates is a show at Oxford's O2 Academy on June 7.

GIVING THE BANK OF MUM AND DAD A BOOST WITH EQUITY RELEASE

In today's expensive property market your home could help put your children on the property ladder

The first steps onto the property ladder can be a daunting challenge. With house prices continuing to increase, Dad first property can appear further away than ever for the UK's would-be first-time buyers. This has seen an increasing turn towards the "Bank of Mum and Dad" for financial support. Recent research indicates that the average amount lent to children by their parents for support in the property market is over £16,360, although a significant number (41%) cannot offer this financial support.

For over-55 UK homeowners there is a way to use the value of your property to give the "Bank of Mum and Dad" a timely financial boost. The home that you have been responsibly investing in for years could turn out to be your secret later-life cash reserve. A lifetime mortgage, the most popular way of releasing equity, could allow you to access your property wealth in a way that is convenient, flexible, and secure. With the equity released you could then put your parent and assist the big up onto the property ladder they long want.

There are a range of lifetime mortgage options available to suit your circumstances, & a flexible lifetime mortgage would give you an immediate tax-free cash lump sum, which could be gifted to your children as a first-time purchase or as a house deposit. The remainder of the equity you have released is then kept in an interest-free reserve, ready for when you need it. This option can help mitigate the build-up of interest.

By choosing a lifetime mortgage provider with an Equity Release Council approved broker, you can take comfort in several important guarantees. The and your partner must full ownership of your property for the duration of your lives, or until you enter future care. A no negative-equity guarantee also ensures that you will never owe more than the value of your home at the end of the plan.

The money you have access to with a lifetime mortgage is yours to spend entirely in any way. Why not feel out today if your house could help fund the "Bank of Mum and Dad", and put your children on a realistic step-up onto the property ladder?

<sup>1</sup> The Guardian, House prices for 55+ year-olds have hit new low for would-be buyers, 12/10/15

Bloodline Wills

Nick King,
Head of April
King Legal

Does this sound familiar to you?

"We've made our Wills, leaving everything to each other first and then to the children."

These are known as Mirror Wills. Sounds reassuring enough, doesn't it? But your children could end up with very little - or even nothing at all.

Dear Reader,

Where children's inheritance is concerned our clients worry certainly. They want to know that their children will one day benefit from all their years of hard work. They usually come to us having already made standard Mirror Wills with another firm. But often doubts remain in their mind.

Modern family life has many twists and turns and clients worry that having left their estate directly to their children in their Will, what would happen if their son had relationship difficulties or their daughter had creditors pressing. Would their inheritance be taken away from them?

April King Legal are specialists in new style Bloodline Wills. Our free information pack shows you how we can update your Will to include bloodline protection for your children and grandchildren.

Kindly,
Nick King

- ✓ How to ensure a child's inheritance is protected from hostile third parties
- ✓ The difference between joint tenants and tenants in-common
- ✓ Why standard 'Mirror Wills' can put a child or other beneficiaries inheritance at risk
- ✓ How to deal with estranged children in your Will
- ✓ Lasting Power of Attorney and how they can help you and your family
- ✓ Making a Will for the first time
- ✓ How to include or exclude step-children / step-grandchildren

DID YOU KNOW...

"If you have a child who has a mental health issue, it's important that you know where their assets will end up when they pass away and about your own children from that marriage. Should your son or daughter inherit from you before their divorce is finalised then they could end up having to share their inheritance with their ex-spouse and spouse. April King's free information pack shows you ways to help prevent this happening and keep inheritance in the family bloodline."

It's a great weekend for all at MG Live 2018

The world's biggest event for MG cars will take place at Silverstone on June 2-3, with over 100 years of heritage set to be celebrated at the MG Car Club's biennial event.

A family-friendly weekend with attractions for everyone, this will be the event's 48th year, with visitors travelling from as far afield as China, India and Australia to attend. Thousands of MGs from the 1880s right up to the present day will be present over the two days, whether they're in the Concours or Pinks of Openings, displays, in the huge model-specific parking areas or being put through their paces in the Live Arena.

But that's far from all. Visitors can also enjoy a packed schedule of MG racing on the famous Grand Prix Circuit, a Dunsford procession start display from Ross Swift and a fantastic Village Green area with live entertainment throughout - including an After Hours party on the Saturday night. A host of specialist lenders will be on hand to supply a wide variety of goodies too, while MG Motor will be offering test drives in the latest range of MGs. Some of the cars at the event won't have been seen by UK eyes before, as are bound to cause a

THE CHEQUERS AT BURCOT

Using locally sourced ingredients, award winning head-chef Steven Sanderson has created a menu for everyone...

Have a bite of everything with our new sharing boards, ideal for when you can't decide what to have!

The reason we focus mainly on our British beef steaks which are 100% grass fed and slowly aged to produce rich, succulent & delicious aged beef. With 22 side dishes to choose from, you can complete your meal exactly how you would like it - gone are the days where the chef tells you what to have! We also have 10 other main meat dishes to tempt your taste buds!

To tell all that food you still have room for more, take a look at our dessert menu! Our house speciality is the Hot & Cold Menu, ask the team about it next time you visit!

Our Sunday menu changes weekly however we will always have our staple Roast Beef, Chicken, Pork & Lamb - Please note reserving a table is highly recommended on Sunday afternoons!

Walking and running for health in aid of Sobell House

Walking is a fantastic way to improve mental and physical health, through exercise, fresh air, time away from the pressures we face in everyday life.

At Sobell House we attach a lot of importance to the overall well-being of our patients, their physical and mental health matters to us. Our priority is on enabling patients to retain their mobility and independence for as long as possible, and to support people in living as well and as fully as possible in the time that they have left.

Our fantastic multi-disciplinary team, made up of occupational therapists, physiotherapists, a psychiatrist and a range of art therapists, works together to ensure patients have the tools as well as the physical aids that they need to help make many of the small everyday tasks that we all take for granted that much more possible. Tasks such as putting on slippers; walking to the end of the garden; going to the toilet on one's own, turning in bed, all these tasks can become overwhelming if people are not equipped to carry them safely. We see that this greater feeling of independence and control has a direct positive impact on the patients' mental health.

The majority of the people who support Sobell House have had a connection with the hospice. We find that many choose physical exercise such as walking and running as their way of showing their gratitude for the services that we provided for a loved one.

So we are keen to give our supporters the opportunity to get fit and feel healthy and, at the same time, help Sobell House to continue to care for people living with a terminal illness across Oxfordshire.

Here are some of the immediate opportunities that you can join to come and get fit with us: www.sobellhouse.org for more information or call us on 01865357007

The Moonlight Stroll - 23 June 2012 - 5pm

This is our best supported event - hundreds of people come together of an evening to walk for Sobell House and show their support and appreciation for the work that we do.

It is an 5-mile walk through the streets of Oxford, with marshals at every turn helping you stay on course.

Sign up at www.sobellhouse.org/moonlight-stroll

The Oxford Half Marathon - 7 October

If you're a little more experienced or want to set yourself a new challenge, we are now taking entries for the Oxford Half Marathon.

With over 100 runners, last year Team Sobell was the largest single team in the race. Let's try and do even better this year, get your place now and take advantage of our special charity places!

To sign up and get your special code email kevin.game@sobellhospice.org or call 01865 357012

Unfortunately we have been forced to cancel our Forget Me Not fun run on Sunday 26th May. We will be contacting registered runners separately.

If you would like to hear more about the work of Sobell House, or keep up to date with our events please email mail@sobellhospice.org

EDITORIAL

The Changing Face Of Men's Wedding Attire

British wedding habits have changed rapidly during the last few years, and this evolution continues into 2008.

- The average wedding now costs over £16,000
- The trend for couples is a full set of friends, being replaced by friends like close friends.
- Purple is the most popular bridesmaid dress colour
- 14% of newlyweds now honeymoon in the UK and 14% in Europe

These changes are also reflected in what the groom is going to wear on his big day. At The Cotswold Tailor we have noticed big shifts in demand in both our hair department and our bespoke tailoring services, when it comes to wedding suits.

In 2003 we retailled out not a single frock coat, and demand for morning coats fell significantly. When we did rent out a morning coat, more often than not the groom had opted to come away from traditional wedding wear, and instead opted for a suit with a bow tie (see picture right).

Naturally with both my bespoke and here wear clients, there has been a shift towards more tailored, three piece, slim-fit, lounge suits, particularly brighter blue shades. With many of my bespoke clients pointing out the benefits of getting frequent use out of the lounge suit prior to the wedding.

Probably the biggest trend, however, has been in the growing popularity of tuxedos. As contemporary formal weddings have grown in popularity so too has the demand for both three piece tuxedos suits, but also the more relaxed look of a pair of dinner jackets with tuxedo waistcoats and bow tie. (see picture right)

This look has become so popular that in 2008 we launched an entire new here wear range dedicated to tuxedos.

Build It Live returns to Oxfordshire (9 and 10 June 2018)

One of the UK's most popular self-build and renovation shows Build It Live will return to Bicester, Oxfordshire on the weekend of 9 and 10 June 2018.

Build It Live brings together industry experts, exhibitors and self-builders looking to build their own homes, renovate an old house or are wanting to add space to their current home.

Visitors can hear from self-builders who will be talking their own self-build stories including going top tips and sharing what they wish they'd known before getting started.

The show will provide plenty of inspiration for home owners looking to change the exterior look of their home by adding or replacing half doors, sliding doors, French doors, windows, contemporary and traditional entrance doors and rooflights.

There will be a chance of a free seminar each day developed by Build It's editorial team and a panel of experts to ensure all common questions are covered and to give visitors the lowest edge to take control of their projects.

- Workshop Programme:
- A step by step guide to self-build
  - How to find land and getting planning permission
  - How to add more space and value
  - Renovating a home with character
  - The different methods to managing your project
  - What are the self and custom build opportunities in Oxfordshire
  - The perfect way to build your home plus the great build system debate
  - Building a sustainable home
  - Designing your dream house

All free workshops will also be presented by leading suppliers and specialists in the Workshop Zone and will cover specific problems and choices that self-builders and renovators face every day including how to hire the right builder nationwide, how to finance a self-build project, projects you can achieve without planning permission, windows and doors, old framed homes and how best to add space in lofts, basement or through an extension.

Leading companies including Potton Homes and Carpenter Oak will have experts on hand to discuss individual self-build projects.

The Bicester show also features the Garden Hall Zone, a dedicated area where visitors can find out more about the opportunities to build on the Groves Hill site, the UK's largest self-build project with over 100 plots available. Groves Hill is in Bicester, just a 10-minute motorcade into London by train, and so an ideal option for first time buyers struggling to get on the property ladder in the City.

Reveal what's at the show:
THE NAKED HOUSE - Use a cut-away show home of '500 sq ft' - a fascinating insight into how things are installed, from ICF blockwork and under floor heating, to the roof trusses and floor joists.

SELF-BUILDERS OWN STORIES LIVE - Gain inspiration and confidence from local self-builders who have realised their self-build dreams. Hear their stories in the live theatre and show floor.

RED BUILDING ADVICE - Hear how to build a sustainable home and gain one-to-one advice on a range of issues including renewable energy and environmentally friendly building techniques.

FIND A BUILDERS - Talk to the Federation of Master Builders who can guide you through the process of finding the right builder for your project via their database of trusted tradesmen in your area.

ESTIMATING SERVICE - Talk to an estimator to better understand how much it will cost to build the base of your dreams.

3D HOME DESIGN DESIGN - Visit the Build It 3D Home Design stand for a FREE 3D virtual demonstration of how to visualise your home project in 3D.

SMART HOME LIVING - Understand how to integrate automation and technology into your self-build. A variety of suppliers will be on hand to offer guidance on how the latest tech can improve the way you live in your new home.

SELF-BUILD ACADEMY - FREE master classes from the Self-Build Academy delivered by Potton - providing essential knowledge for self-builders.

NEW! BRICK MAKING DEMO - Hands on, make your own personalised brick under the expert guidance of North East Bricks Ltd.

NEW! LAND ZONE - All you need to know about finding land, along with a gallery of current available plots of land in the region plus the latest serviced-plot projects across the UK.

For further information and to book tickets visit www.builditlive.co.uk. Tickets are now on sale via the website. Standard ticket prices will be £12 per person. Children under 16 are admitted free with an accompanying adult, and do not require a ticket.

The show opens at 10am on both days and is open until 5pm on Saturday and 4.30pm on Sunday.

All paying visitors will receive a copy of the latest issue of Build It Magazine worth £4.95 when they visit the show.

Press enquiries including requests for press tickets, self-build case studies and high resolution images to Caroline Edmunds at Pottongroup PR on 01192 894417 or email caroline@pottongroup.co.uk.

Lowe vows car will improve

By George Welch

F1 - Williams

FITTED Williams have launched a recovery plan in an effort to lift their drivers out of the midfield and into the top 10. The team's new car, the FW36, is expected to be a significant improvement.

"The plan is really quite laid out," the team's technical director, James Allison, said. "We're going to make sure the car is competitive in the midfield, and then we'll move on to the top 10."
